9 easy steps for admission to Southwest University at El Paso

- 1. Meet with a Southwest University admissions advisor to discuss your career goals, explore the career training SU offers, and also discover if SU offers the career that could be in your future.
- 2. If you like what you see, submit your application. There is no application fee!
- 3. Complete a preliminary financial plan visit with an SU student financial aid specialist, to see if you qualify for grants, loans, and other personal investment options.
- 4. Ask about scholarship possibilities. Your Admissions advisor will help you with applications for scholarships.
- 5. Visit SU at your first opportunity. Tour the campus where your career training will take place. Meet students and instructors. Observe classes. Experience SU for yourself - up close and personal. It's the best way to know if SU is right for you.
- 6. Follow up with your financial aid application. Work with your student financial aid specialist to submit the all required forms and meet deadlines for the upcoming financial aid year.
- 7. Make sure Admissions has received transcripts from your high school and any postsecondary institutions you have attended.
- 8. Attend a new student orientation.
- 9. Arrive early for the first day of class!
